Allis Chalmers WD

Cassie Mack from Illinois is featured in our 2022 catalog. Her photo is one of our top picks! She writes, "I started pulling tractors when I was in junior high, starting out on my dad's Farmall M. After a while I wanted my own tractor, and I knew I wanted an Allis Chalmers. We went to an auction and brought home this Allis Chalmers and she quickly was named 'The Lil Allis'. She received a paint job from my dad, the old Allis Orange with the new Allis Orange flames coming off the grill going through the decal, and coming down the fenders.

We continued to pull throughout high school. When I went to college my dad continued to pull her while I was gone. One year he flipped it during a pull, after that she came home and sat in the shed until now. I decided I wanted to get back into the pulling game. We pulled her out, dusted off the cobwebs to reveal her custom paint job, and got to work. In this picture she is showing off her custom-made weight bracket in the front and in front of the rear axle, and the custom-made wheelie bars in the back. This winter she will receive a whole new paint job that I'm excited to be part of. Won the weight class (3,750 lbs Farm Class) that I pull in with the WeakEnders Tractor Pulling Club this year." Crank it up: 1947 Case VAC

Enjoy the following story submitted to our blog by Brad Turner from Pennsylvania. He writes, "This is my grandfather's 1947 Case VAC. My grandfather retired in the early 2000s from dairy farming. Once retired, he was not very active, and my family knew this would be a problem. As a solution, my family purchased this tractor and presented it to him for Father's Day. The plan was to help him restore the tractor, and he could then take it to the local fairs to show and pull it in the antique tractor pulls.

He pulled this tractor for many years and won many trophies with it. It helped him get out of the house and stay active, especially during the Summer months. Unfortunately, he is no longer able to use the tractor due to his age and health, so I have taken the tractor under my wing and started pulling it and having fun with it as he did for many years." RED FEVER COLLECTION

BY DENA WHITE FROM IOWA

Dena White's photo is featured in our 2022 catalog. Her photo is our selection for the Family and Friends category. She writes, "Above are three tractors that were fully restored by our son, Cole White. When he joined 4-H, he had a dream of restoring tractors - just like his grandpa. At the early age of 11 and his first year in 4-H, he began with the 544 International Harvester Tractor (pictured on the right). This tractor needed a little bit of mechanical work and needed to be completely repainted. Taking what he learned from his first project, he began his second restoration of an 826 International Harvester Tractor (pictured on the left) and his favorite to drive. He was more confident and knowledgeable on what needed repair by the hands-on experience he had with his first project. After success with his first two projects, a 4-H judge suggested he challenge himself a little more for his next project. He did just that! He found a Farmall 504 tractor (pictured in the middle) that had been in a field for many years with weeds growing up around it. It did not run and needed a full body repair. He worked very hard at getting this tractor's motor to run and had lots of bodywork to do for his completed project.

Each of the tractors he has restored for 4-H projects has been stripped to the bare bones, sanded, all hydraulics and mechanical functions repaired and each of them was completely repainted by him to become fully functioning show-ready tractors. Cole put a lot of sweat and long hours into the restoration of these tractors with each of them having its own unique challenges. The tractors are very special to Cole and to the White Family. Cole is very appreciative of the guidance he received from his father, Mike White, and his grandfather, Dennis White, who is pictured with him. Our family enjoys sharing these tractors with others by participating in numerous tractor rides, parades, and sometimes just a casual ride around town on a nice day."

John Deere MT

by Cathy Cunnyngham from Texas

Enjoy the following story and photo submitted to our blog by Cathy Cunnyngham from Texas. She writes, "My husband's uncle bought this John Deere MT new after WWII for $1500 with all the implements and farmed cotton with it. It replaced a team of horses. My husband's uncle got to the point that he couldn't drive anymore so I started taking him wherever he needed to go. He said to my husband one day, "I need to do something for her for taking me everywhere. Do you reckon she'd like to have that little MT out in the tractor shed?" My husband said, "Yeah, I think she'd like to have that just fine". So his uncle gave this MT to me. We also got all of the implements and had it all restored. My husband teases me about the fact that we have $20K invested in a $2K tractor… but I love it and it will always be mine. By the way, my husband grew up on this tractor." Summer fun

Scattered along the shoreline, Michigan's lighthouses offer waypoints to those on water and are landmarks of history for those on land. Short and squat, or tall and lean, each of Michigan's uniquely-beautiful lighthouses plays its part in keeping the Great Lakes safe. With 3,200 miles of shoreline and one of the nation's most active waterways, it's no wonder that Michigan claims more lighthouses than any other state in the country. Find additional information at http://www.michigan.org/lighthouses

The Family Ford 9N

Enjoy the following story submitted to our blog by Tim Kirk from Ohio. He writes, "This was my wife's grandfather's Ford 9N, he got it new in 1943. When he passed away it sat in the barn for 30 years. My wife's dad wanted it so bad, and when his mom passed away she left it to him.

I took it and restored it for him and he was so happy with it. He would just go out and set on it for hours. Now he's gone and my wife has it. It will go to our son next and I hope it will stay in our family. The Family Ford 9N." For more restoration stories visit www.AntiqueTractorBlog.com
